

Maria Ravese

B.A (Accountancy)

Partner, PwC

As a Partner with PwC, Maria leads the Adelaide People Business focussed on the provision of taxation and HR related services associated with employment.

Whilst having a background in general taxation and broader business advisory, Maria has specialist expatriate tax technical skills and extensive experience dealing with multinationals in relation to their global workforce. This has included providing advice in relation to tax effective remuneration planning, development of domestic and expatriate HR policies and dealing with cross border regulatory compliance obligations. Maria has focussed on these areas for 17 years whilst based in PwC's London, Sydney and now Adelaide offices.

Maria has experience in working with clients across a number of industries. This includes extensive exposure to the resources industry, given the movement of its workforce across jurisdictions.
